The Master's House, Middle Temple. The Round Church was built by the Templars in 1184 in recollection of the Church of the Holy Sepulchre. The Choir, in early English style, was added in 1240. The Chaplain is called the Master of the Temple, and many distinguished men—Hooker, Sherlock, Vaughan, etc.—have held the post. The Master's House is truly "desirable" in this tranquil spot. All the rush and bustle of London have "never been able to sweep their roaring tide over these islands of quiet."

PUBLISHED BY APPOINTMENT TO THEIR MAJESTIES THE KING & QUEEN.
